Mr. H. Harry Huntley

Mr. H. Harry Huntley, age 83, passed away peacefully at First Health Hospice and Palliative Care of Moore County on January 29, 2014. Mr. Huntley, a native of Anson County, lived in Wadesboro.

Funeral services were held on Sunday, February 2, 2014, at First United Methodist Church, Wadesboro. Interment followed in Eastview Cemetery.

Born October 1, 1930, to the late William Henry Huntley and the late Louise Beverly Huntley, Harry was their fifth child. His siblings were the late Colonel William Henry Huntley, Jr.; Robert W. Huntley; Louise Garris; and the late Charles Beverly Huntley.

Upon graduation from Wadesboro High School, Harry attended UNC Chapel Hill. While at UNC he was in the ROTC Program, and exited the university as an Air Force Lieutenant. He served on bases in Cheyenne, Wyoming and El Paso, Texas. Upon his return from the service in 1954, Mr. Huntley went to work for his father's business, which in 1903 began as Huntley-Martin Livory.

In 1914 William Henry Huntley and Flake Martin established the Huntley Buick Company at the livery location and began selling Buick automobiles. Harry was well known in Wadesboro and the surrounding counties for his dedicated work following his father's lead in providing automobiles and service to many over the span of nearly three decades. Harry was known for having loyal customers and being an honest salesman with integrity.

He married Bettie Baker Huntley on September 9, 1951. His four children remember their father's unequivocal support for each receiving secondary and post secondary educations. His children knew without doubt a father who loved each and took delight in family gatherings and activities. Always a loyal UNC Tarheel fan, Harry enjoyed watching UNC football and basketball games, especially when his children joined in to cheer for the Heels.

Mr. Huntley's work at Huntley Buick expanded to include Huntley Buick Pontiac Oldsmobile and Chevrolet. He would exit the car business by 1980 as his son Bill Huntley would take over as President. This led to Harry pursuing his hobby of raising livestock, which eventually became a primary passion in his life as he created a Black Angus cow-calf operation with cattle bloodlines from western states Montana and Wyoming. Harry was a member of the Cattleman's Association and was recognized in the area and became a most reputable livestock breeder.

In 1985 Harry assisted Stephen Spielberg by allowing his Anson County farm to be leased as the primary film location for the purpose of transforming Alice Walker's Pulitzer Prize novel The Color Purple into a notable film. Mr. Huntley oversaw all agricultural elements associated with this movie.

Dedicated to First United Methodist Church of Wadesboro, Harry attended the men's Sunday School Class and enjoyed weekly services and raising his family in this beloved church.

Mr. Huntley is survived by his wife, Bettie; his children, Bill Huntley (Joanne), LuEllen Huntley, Sally Braly (Paul) and Connie Fry (David); brother Robert (Evalyn); sister Louise; three grandsons, William Huntley (Brinley), Joseph Huntley (Ashley), and Michael Braly; granddaughter Katharine Elks (Dylan); great-granddaughter Charlotte Huntley; and many beloved nieces and nephews.

Mr. Harry Huntley will be remembered as a kind, loving gentleman who took great pleasure in the beauties of nature, raising blueberries, and being a citizen of the town of Wadesboro with family ties stretching back seven generations in Anson County. All who knew Harry will miss him.

In lieu of flowers individuals may wish to make a donation to First Health Hospice and Palliative Care of Moore County, PO Box 5889, Pinehurst, NC 28374 or to First United Methodist Church, 118 E. Morgan St., Wadesboro, NC 28170.
