Remembering.....

Anson High School

You do remember this red, white and blue activity bus - I lettered September 26, 1961, with Anson High School on both sides and Anson Eagles on the front and rear. Arthur Summers tells me that the fellows at the Anson School Bus maintenance department did a fantastic job "fixing-up," painting, etc. - even the painting of the wheels and bumpers, to make it look like new!

At this time Anson High School was new (opened 1960) and was the beginning of Anson County's High School consolidation program - located on highway US 74 (present location of the Anson Senior High School). The Anson High opening included high schools in Ansonville, Lilesville, Peachland, Polkton and Burnsville. This was some years before Bowman Senior High School (1967) which included the entire county high schools. (Morven, Deep Creek)

Arthur Summers was the first principal at Anson High - Arthur Newkirk, Don King and Shine Huntley were some in the sports department - and many, many more!
