Getting Off to a Great Start With New Teacher Orientation

New Teacher Orientation kicked off last week with a fantastic start! We're thrilled to welcome our new teachers to Anson County Schools!

Amanda Horton, Angela Adams, and Lawanda McLendon from our District Curriculum Department have been doing an amazing job facilitating the orientation.

On the morning of orientation Dr. Brian Ratliff, our Superintendent, welcomed the group with heartfelt insights on the significance of fostering relationships and investing in our students' growth.

Veronica Smith, Secondary Math Support, guided teachers in creating their Infinite Campus Passport. Campus Passport is our training subscription and features role-specific, on-demand learning plans. Furthermore, beginning with the 2024-25 school year, the Anson County School District is transitioning to Infinite Campus, a new student information system. This platform replaces PowerSchool as a parents' one-stop shop for grades, attendance, assignments, schedules, and other important school information. We are excited about the opportunities it will bring!

The day continued with a motivating Lunch and Learn session featuring Luke Hyatt, Anson County Schools' Teacher of the Year, and Myra Bricken, Beginning Teacher of the Year. Their inspiring words truly set the tone for what promises to be an incredible year ahead.

Here's to the start of an amazing journey filled with growth, discovery, and endless possibilities. Welcome to the team, and let's make this year exceptional together!
