

Revolutionary War in South Carolina Exhibit

The Cheraw Arts Commission will feature The Revolutionary War in South Carolina exhibit from the South Carolina State Museum at the Burr Gallery during November. The exhibit will be displayed from November 3rd until 20th in the gallery located at the Cheraw Community Center - 200 Powe Street.

The panel exhibit examines the major role that South Carolina played in the Revolutionary War, where over 200 engagements (battles and skirmishes) took place, more than any other colony during the war. The panels also highlight major battles that took place in South Carolina, including the Battle of Sullivan's Island, the Cherokee Attack and the Battle of Cowpens, as well as the role that African Americans and women played in the war.

Historic Cheraw and the Cheraw Arts Commission will present two History Talks on Tuesday, November 10 in conjunction with the exhibit. Historians Charles B. Baxley and David P. Reuwer will be the featured speakers for these free events.

Charles B. Baxley will present The Revolutionary War Comes to Cheraw during a lunchtime talk at the Cheraw Community Center from 12 Noon-1:00pm. Mr. Baxley is the publisher of Southern Campaigns of the American Revolution, an on-line magazine dedicated to the study of the War for American Independence in the Southern Department from 1760 to 1789 and in its greater context.

The evening talk A Visit with Colonel Joseph Kershaw at Old St. David's Episcopal Church-6:30pm will be presented by Mr. Baxley with a visit from Joseph Kershaw portrayed by David P. Reuwer, founder of the new American Revolution Association. Mr. Reuwer is also the editor of American Revolution magazine.

The public is invited to visit the Burr Gallery and attend the History Talks. Gallery Hours are Monday-Friday - 8:30am-5:00pm. Contact the Cheraw Arts Commission 843.537.8420 x 12 for additional information.
